A recap of my beliefs ...

Here for those new to the party:

The elite use their pawns, the left and right wings to create the body 'majority politics' (a majority of plutocrats), which then imposes upon you. Not hard to understand at all Junior.

To recap my Basic Beliefs about Everything.

The basic fact of human societies, is that all human beings are born into a group of a mother and a father.

These two persons had to mingle flesh, so that each and every person on this planet could be produced. And this holds true even if scientific so called artificial means are used to facilitate the creation of life, because the sperm or egg cannot be created artificially and thus a male and a female are still necessary for the procreation of life.

This basic fact, of human existence means that all radical individualism, is utterly false at a minimum and at a maximum a destructive belief, which wastes saved capital from the past, and ensures that there will be no productive future. This being said, it is also untrue that societies of humans, are hives of bees. We cannot operate like insects do; this is not possible.

Therefore it follows, then a middle ground must be found between these extremes, which allows for the individual to exist and the group to not be negated and which allows for the group to exist and for the individual to not be negated. This may sound like some sort of mystic dualism, but this is only true, if you accept the idea that individuals and groups are necessarily in conflict.

Once you accept the reality that they complement each other, the apparent mysticism dissolves. A very solid proof, for the necessity of groups, to the existence of the individual, can be demonstrated from nature, in which all humans live in tribes, villages or some other group of at least an extended family. There is no man woman or child home in the natural order of things, who exists without a past, family and a society into which they were born. Yet on the other hand there is no group that is not comprised of individuals and again we see that there is no conflict or contrary between the group and individual -- they are complementary.

The most basic group is again the family group, then it expands to the extended family, then to tribes, then to nations. This is the natural organic progression. Families are a proto-statelet and clans are states in all but name. From this basic reality of human social organization, it follows that all societies, must like all just families, find/make/ensure – the semantics are not important –a place for all their members. It simply true that everyone in a society must have some use, purpose, or function in the society or they shall become alienated, and not hope for the best interests of the society at large. Everyone must have a purpose, everyone must put in and everyone must get their right and just due. This is the basic moral doctrine of any correct political/social/economic system, anything else is not satisfactory and must be rejected.

In our modern terms, this means that each head of household, must have a homestead, work that will provide for the upkeep of said homestead, and that these two bedrock conditions must be legally protected from economic/legal forces, otherwise in time men with money, will ensure that some citizens are pauperized and cannot properly raise families to increase the citizen body. Thus to make it more general it follows from the above, that a just society restrains economics to the needs and interests of the members of the society. And that further, a just society views the components of society all the way down to the tribes, families, and particular people as members of a larger family or if you will as parts of an organic whole all having needs, and who all contribute to the common good. Yes it is true that the above means in part that each and everyone won't get to just do as they please, that is true. But nothing in it should be implied to mean that anyone would be stopped from earning an honest living. Honest shall be defined to mean not legally but MORALLY correct within the above precept about Everyone counting.

In the natural order of things, Work, physical and mental, are the means to meet the needs of both the individual and the group, which at a minimum are: food, clothing, shelter and lastly some sort of weaponry with which to protect these other things. Work is also an end to ensure that each has their material to contribute to the common good and his particular good which are tied together. It is important that psychologically each think himself to be an active part of the community's life as such to ensure their loyalty. Thus from this odd view it is both an end and a means to other ends.

Also it must be admitted that in the natural order of things, there are only so many hours to everyday, and that only so many of these hours can be put to work and allow for the conditions outlined above which necessitate a certain amount of leisure time for the citizens. Thus, without a right to work and earn one's way, a place to stay, cloth on one's back, food in one's belly, and a sufficient amount time of leftover to live well, the Rights to life liberty and the pursuit of happiness are meaningless and empty promises. They were after all proclaimed by very very wealthy men, after all, and in truth.

In fact it is only when these basic conditions of living are met that anything like freedom or any other abstract concept has any real meaning whatsoever, as there are done it all practical realities going to be few to any, starving, penniless, vagabond, bestial philosophers, scientists, mathematicians, or great world leaders; and this is an overreaching fact. The opposite is also true that any livelihood work, occupation which does not provide for these minimal conditions, is no just work at all and is not right or CORRECT in any way shape or form. I shall go so far as a state that any work which uses up a significant portion of the workday over any significant amount of the week should pay a living wage as that work/time can never be had back, and the person must yet eat be housed and be clothed. Workers Live and thus require Living Wages: No exceptions.

It is obvious that in any just, proper and stable, polity, for a citizen, to have any meaningful use, of what we conveniently call rights, he must have his needs in life met, and still have time necessary to enjoy his life and engaged in the pursuits required of free citizens in a free state ie he must have education and leisure as well as the opportunity to work by which work to earn a livelihood for his family, and by extension his nation's organic being.

Economics' was invented by human beings, for their ends, humans do not exist for economic ends. Thus any theory or belief that postulates that economics control men or that modes of production are dominant over human will is false. Since it is a penultimate truth that human activity IE human will, created economics and all value judgments as we know them now--there being no mode of production in nature sans human beings. The small matters of economics are merely matters of human will, money merely being an invention of our minds, it is absurd that it should be our master.

In a preceding paragraph effects were discussed briefly, economics has a great number of unintended consequences when it is simply allowed to be pursued blindly for pure personal profit and with no regard for anyone else. Part of these effects which should be taken into account are of course the effects that any large scale industrial action action has on the environment around us, as that environment is our home writ large. This is not to say that we should abandon industrial society, it is only to say that we should balance the needs of an industrial society with the realities of what nature can and cannot absorb in the line of pollutants destruction and the rest. This is also to say that natural resources, should not be used willy nilly, to the benefit of private companies and to the loss of the commons.

The simple fact is is that, no company, no person, no group of persons, have a right nor ideally should have any legal ability, to do the common people harm, for mere return on investment or market gain. The idea would be similar to saying that, in the days of the cave, one person should have the right horde the food and sell it all the others. Do you think your ancestors would have tolerated being treated like this? But this is the market, where some horde, and some go hungry, and you golden calf worshipers, call this moral and just. But I say a market was born in theft, a royal theft at that. And that its freedoms are never free, and quite the contrary are always attached to interest, debt, pauperization,, slavery resource depletion, and over extension, which will in the long-term ensure societal collapse. The market demands more resources from nature eventually than can be had, thus it is a false paradigm. A further truth is that if you look at the birth of both the Bolshevik economy, and the early English industrial economy, both feature the same sorts of population transfers, murders, thefts of the common persons wealth and its concentration into the hands of a few favorites.

Thus the common paradigm in which there is a free market and communism. A controlled market and a free market, are false contrasts. They have no real validity. The fact is that yes, you should be free to engage in commerce or economics, but, only, if, that commerce is honest and not destructive to the homeland, the hearths, and/or the common citizenry who make up the base of the social system upon which you engage and commerce. That is in so much as you engage in commerce honestly and within the rules as establish for the common good you shall be let alone and protected by the might of state, with the blessings of all good men. It is as easy as following the rules, paying taxes, and doing call ups, really.

I see nothing there that does great injury to anyone's ability to engage in honest fair business. Those of you on the other hand that would wish to do underhanded business, who would wish to cheat the nation by doing business with foreigners at the expense of the nation you will be driven out like vipers, routed for the good of all as good old Andy Jackson put it.

From here it is only a matter of choosing a political system ... it will be a mixed system ... I advise the tried and true combination of a Head of State; a Council; and an Assembly of the People. From all time to all time, this repeats, you will not escape it.

The only thing that remains is to determine if YOU shall control the process, or if others based upon what ever qualification shall do the controlling. I will let the diagram below speak for my thoughts no the matter:

This is actually the most simply part as if you have a proper society and economic order, there is little for the political arm to take care of outside of national defense and keeping basic order among the parts. Proper society of course is one in which the MEN over a certain age determine for the rest what shall be and what shall not be, by means of first their Familial authority over their own homes which then is translated into political control. The only system that works is to tie voting with call up and paying tax, while simply only allowing men to do call up. Anything else is modernist subversion. Period. IN reality this is the most stable social form ever found and that is why the modernist PC bots hate it so, as it is a very very hard nut to crack. Even the limpid remnants are giving them a good go, the return of Masculinity has them terrified. Especially the confuse members, of the feminine half of the species, who have grown to like lording it over the beta Males that are conditioned to put up with them. This planned revolt against 'patriarchy' ie normalcy is outlined by Frederick Engel's in several of his works and to a lesser extent by Karl Marx. It is also a common theme among the 68'er commies and the Frankfurters who are commonly understood to be Political Correctness or Cultural Marxism. Traditional society was destroyed harpy by harpy, harridan by harridan, Jewish Mother by Jewish mother.

And this is where men who reject PC, must run straight into modernity's main supporters the 'liberated women' and 'free adult' 18-21 year old child who make up the bulk of voters between them. These voting blocks are the reason sanity can never be had at the poll as females are not reasonable and children are dull, thus both are easily tricked by the media into doing what is expected ...

Fortunately, voting is an OPTION, at least any vote that includes anyone not born with a penis who is over a certain age of understand is FULLY an option.

The real fact is that a group of angry upset adult men, who have a large enough mass and distribution, have no need of these concepts that have allowed all this insanity called PC.

I will let you in on a secret: Liberal modernity can lie to itself, but males are always the strong backs and sharp spears, that keep any system standing, in all times and places and that does not and cannot 'evolve' without the degenerate display that is modernity. Once the men trapped by this abnormal and unnatural system mentally defect and find/realize/confirm that their interests are no longer served by this PC egalitarianism and modernity, then it is absolutely assured that something very much like the patriarchal society I call for will reemerge from the rubble and rebuild among the ruins that is modern PC matriarchy.

It is assured, since once the goodies, the services and the games (video and otherwise) can no longer distract the young men, and they realize that they have been robbed of their future by Mommy PC and the Matriarchs,homos, minorities, and other churls who hide behind 'the system' it is my feeling they will do what any White Man would do: Slap reality back into line!

And as always: If you are not angry you are one of the thieves!

Legal is just as bad as illegal

– it is the displacement not the legality that is the Issue!

Legal or illegal are Lawyers trifles: We Don't care if they are 'legal' we care that they are taking our place in Our Own Homelands! That is the Issue, not trivial lawyer word play!

Mass Immigration is the Death of Nations, and the birth of bastard countries based upon nothing but money and selfish gain ... IE based on nothing at all. (A Proper Nation is based upon ONE People in ONE land, under ONE Law, with One Way of Life, living by the lights of ONE culture! Multi cultural is just short hand for NO culture and a hodgepodge of alien persons pretending to be a proper nation.)

Thus let us set aside that PC weak kneed nonsense about 'legal vs illegal immigration', as if the 'legals' will magically just become part of our Nation and People after paying their entry fee to DC and are better than the Illegals ... They are NOT one bit better because the simple fact is that it does not matter if my people are displaced by illegal or legal immigrants only that they are being displaced at all. That is the key matter of focus. Why?

Why because MY people the American Majority people Made the state called the United States of America in the image of our nation and of NO other! (If you are English, or German or Swiss ... Just substitute, and the idea applies just as readily! Reject PC 'history'!)

If we, the Majority Population go the land mass remains but 'America' is gone with us! All of the wealth, creativity, and greatness: That was us, not some paper, or land mass, but only and merely US. That is the fact of the matter. We made this, it is OURS and OURS alone, and We have NO reason to 'share' with barbarians that are simply tearing down what our ancestors built up with such care.

We the Majority Americans are the, Body, Heart and Soul of America and the PC Rainbow 'America' is a feverish fantasy that is more akin to a trading post slash brothel than a Nation.

If you replace us with third world immigrants you get third world Country that will be more like Liberia, or Laos, or Lebanon than America. All THIRD WORLD immigration of any kind is unacceptable as those savages are both alien and a burden upon my Nation. They have NO reason to be here among us being only a net loss and a destructive element among our ranks.

They are NOT in any way a 'benefit', nor do they enrich any but the very few who hire them while putting Lawful Majority Citizens out of work by so doing – so they are merely tools used by treasonous carpetbagger employers and culture destroyers as well as disease and crime vectors – EG they are NO benefit at all to the Common Majority Citizen.

The reality that PC and the equality cult does not permit us to discuss is that different groups (races) of people have different inherent abilities and some just cannot build anything like a First World Nation and in fact when they come to one they ruin it in short order ... that is why all minority areas in the First World resemble the Third World. And the more of them we import the more Our Nation will resemble their failed states. The more our culture will retrograde to meet their savagery in the middle to the end that our once High Culture will become Cannibal Congo Cargo Cult Culture.

Thus legal or illegal, if you flood the land with barbarian alien foreigners, you destroy the unique identity, mores and values of the People. And that is what 'diversity' is by any other name Destruction! Mass Immigration of Diversity has caused the State to become alien to the People, which allows the State (Government) to be free of the People and try to Crush the Nation (the peoples power as Sovereign) rather than being its good servant. Thus mass immigration legal or illegal is a means to subvert our nation and destroy our unique identity, the 'benefits' are imaginary and fraudulent, the cost permanent.

Any Questions?

The Descent into utter Madness

We all know the adage about 'those the gods would destroy they first make mad'.

And true to form here we the western people find our self whirling about madly like a dervish in front of the electric marching orders deposit. The group mind has taken in so many kooky, crazy, and outright magical thoughts that it is impossible for us to know truth from false from within the system as it stands. We must abandon all attachment to it and set our selves free from its madness; stop acting foolishly expecting fools errands to end well; and become our natural selves yet once more.

To do this we must challenge the core concepts that underlay modern PC 'egalitarianism' as they exist in the Anglo-sphere nations and Particularly the UK and USA. There are many key concepts like 'Tolerance' and 'Diversity'. But to my mind the primary one that seems to underlie a lot of the rest of the concepts and give them meaning is called 'White Guilt'. This underlies most of the rest of the plot to overthrow our nation. This concept creates the apathy among the masses and is the reason that so many of our own young are becoming cultural eunuchs that help with the task of killing off our ways and ultimately our kind.

White Guilt is PC's 'original sin' of sorts. ALL White People have this guilt for the acts of ALL other WHITE PEOPLE from all time to all time, even the poor since they have the 'advantage' of being poor Whites not dirt poor blacks! (IN fact if they complain of working to pay taxes so that they can live about equal to the Blacks who don't work by and large – that is a sure sign of 'racism' and hatred.)

The logic, as such, runs like this: Being born White means you are 'racists' and 'hate' coloreds because IF WHITE then racism and hatred! If Racism and Hatred then Diversity is needed. Diversity means non-Whitenonmale-non-traditional so If any White (males more than females as they are 'victims' in their own right) object to paying for PC, then more non-Whites (or even worse traitor liberal White Eunuchs) are needed to combat 'racism' IE ensure PC has its tax-base of White (traditional normal anti-PC) Males in check.

That is their Dogmatic Formula – The Anti-racists you will notice share the methodology of the Feminists and Homosexual degenerates who are also subversive to Western Society, while being simultaneously parasitic upon the masses of people that in fact make up Western Society. They are all in this way equal to Liberals -- they all use 'white' as an insult about equal to 'Nazi' or 'fascist'. Just like the other subversives. Just saying. (And the GOP does not talk about 'white' only us Normals do that. Accept it: We are doing our own lifting to get out of this.)

Whites are therefore told that if they just tolerate diversity – meaning the glorification of every other POV and activity but those of the WHITE MAJORITY – and therefore if they give up EVERYTHING special about themselves that they MIGHT just after enough groveling, tax give aways, 'social justice', social programs, single mother homes, raped women folk, and social degeneration to the level of the third world wash away this 'sin' committed by people that in most cases were not even their own ancestors by blood. And many of them at least play along if not actually believe this mamba! And all this on a 'might'! Madness!

It goes without saying that Whites Males that won't embrace gender equality, 'sexual equality', and every other moon-bat liberal pacifist eunuch creating culturally destructive idea unconditionally are the ultimate enemy of all Mankind – the Oppressor of Victims (who are everyone else but the non-Eunuch White.)

It is purely nonsense. Egalitarian Gibberish invented by Commie Subversives! It has about as much substance and reality behind it as Celestial Spheres or Squared Circles ... IE it is a fools quest lacking empirical or moral foundation. To agree with PC is to agree to your own subjection to PC if you are a White Male, who rejects 'equality' and the rest of the feminine mantra put forward by the 'left' in modern Anglo-sphere nations. To have it again: It has NO basis in truth, logic or ethics. The reality is that not one of us has any moral, ethic or logically demonstrable responsibility towards the Blacks or any other person outside OUR kind, and who is not loyal to OUR interests. Period.

The Reality is that not one of us has any responsibility for any slave, slave owner or the 'injustices' that created. The Reality is that not one of the issues or problems among the Blacks is our issue, they have been given everything needed to succeed except those things which are INNATE and lacking to them!

The Reality is that Blacks and Minorities make their ghetto hoods and not racism or poverty or 'hatred'! The minorities do that themselves! The inhabitants make the dwelling! Not the other way around!

The reality is we are tired of accepting illogical pap like the above as normal good sound wholesome thinking!

The reality is that WHITE MEN are feed up with being told to tolerate being punks in our own lands, being told to tolerate being victimized by rapists thieves and murders. Being told this is their own fault when they clearly understand it is PC and its PETS doing this to them!

The Reality is that soon WHITE MALES are going to tell PC and its Pets to STFU and then History is going to change in a big f'ing way! Now I wonder if they can hear the Gods Laughing at them like Commodus?

The World Wide Oligarchy for Dummies; or what the Bright wing is willfully ignoring The Right Wing is always on and on about the left, the liberals and the multicult; however you would be hard pressed to find a single one of them that rejects the Neoliberal

'Free Market' rhetoric of the GOP or Tories.
Why is it that they reject one arm of the Oligarchy and cling so desperately to the other? Lack of clear understanding as to the powers and forces that shape our world is the answer.

The diagram at the left is how I conceptualize the modern 'world order' at least in how it appears to operate from the outside and from under its yoke. I make these charts/diagrams and others to make it easier for myself to digest, and more readily be able to analyze complex systems in motion, by seeing the parts first, then understanding their interconnection and then drawing what conclusions I may or can from that data. I find that strengths and weaknesses of systems can be brought to the fore in this way more easily than merely diving into disparate data as a whole set and trying to make order. It is not a perfect method, true, but it is what I have and therefore without further ado.

In the diagram to the above we have the American (imperial) 'grand alliance' of the Feminists, Fags, Minorities, Big-Money internationalists controlling both the nominal right and left in domestic politics. The left uses this control primarily to demand 'humanitarian' utopian missions, the right to demand access to the resources of just those places that need more humanitarian missions, both agree that force is needed, both do all of this based upon a usurious system that ensures the Common (non-female, non-colored, nonhomosexual )Man at home is left as both tax slave to and first victim of the alliance. They are the source of human capital that keep the machine both maintained and feed. In time since more is going out than coming in, they must be expended and like Great Britain before us the 'Grand Alliance' folks will leave us high and dry and seek greener pastures. This 'shift' in power centers will be facilitated by the fact that World Imperium is based upon cookie cutter identical oligarchies among its client states. Such that it could be thought of like this relative to any one nation:

Notice that Oligarchy forms a coil about the nations, which coil is in effect a debt and credit based economic, social and political prison. Oh a golden barred one to be sure but never the less a prison it remains! Destroy the need for its credit and you destroy its power at a stroke! The Elite Rest upon their Credit Power. Repeat until you grasp this basic fact! The Elite rest upon power over

Credit and debt!

Now that we have touched upon some of the basics. We shall deconstruct the above to attempt to have a better look at its workings.

The modern Murri-Qwa is an oligarchy. It is based upon the 1% Elite's (domestically and world wide) credit dominance from which they control the PC radical left, and the 'country club' end of the GOP. Hence we have an alliance of the Feminists, Homosexuals, minorities, egalitarians and other anti-Western forces with the Big Money Business over all things interests, who have long been rootless cosmopolitans inside our gates.

The power of this alliance is used domestically to ensure dominance over the academia, economy, education, energy, manufacturing, media, and politics. Their dominance is almost complete.

In the diagram to the left, we more clearly can see that the Common Man is the foundation upon which the PCBIG-

Money alliance operates. They are supported by and support fully the credit oligarchy both domestically and internationally to a man. Both (all major) parties are fully on board with the Imperial mission from their own end, and use the Common Man as their servant and oxen in the achievement of those ends with zero regard for the nation. Any complaints or serious attempts to stop the gravy train are denounced by BOTH sides as Racist, Xenophobic, extreme, outside the pale, not part of the mainstream and nationalistic/fascist, and the rest of the world wide interlocking series of oligarchies will do their best to ensure that if the 'national' oligarchy cannot keep order that the 'world' will punish the upstarts economically and invade them if need be to keep them on the 'world' plantation.

It should be noted that to save space I left out those groups that might form outside the triangle of the elite to the left and above, those would be labeled communists, anarchists, or socialists and be denounced, and to the right those are populist, levelers, or 'Luddites' and are equally denounced.

What they have in common is a disgust for the operation of the 'free market' and its steady impoverishment of real life people – the Nationalist cares about his organic kind, the Populist about his Country/Fellow-Citizens – and the fact that they will act against the interests of the Oligarchy.

The oligarchy is glad to play them off against each other, as and how it can. The oligarchy thrives on ignorance to the point that it calls itself 'democracy'.

Now that we have some idea of HOW this works out in real life domestically.

Let us look at the modern American Empire. First it must be noted that the oligarchy that has control of the American system is NOT new and was old when America was young. In modern times it can be traced from the Italian Banking Republics, to the Dutch Republic, the England under Cromwell until about WWI, then it shifted to the USA which currently holds its mantle and is the nominal imperial suzerain. What almost all of them have in common is that they are:

- 1.) They are Usury Based – Debt and bankruptcy are their lives blood.
- 2.) They are Free Marketers – they demand access to others markets and resources.
- 3.)They are Militaristic – they will go to war to get that access, or to collect debts as needed.
- 4.) They are oligarchies – everything in the state tends to reinforce the power of the few over the many.
- 5.) They are plutocracies – wealth is seen to be the measure of all in all, and comes in time to be the SOLE virtue.
- 6.) They are Republics – since a strong market requires a weak government to act as its doorman and enforcer upon the commons.
- 7.)They are legalistic – the letter of the law is used as a shield to protect the oligarchy and as a weapon to punish the commons.

9.) They are Anti-nationalistic – as they evolve they always either bring in more citizens or servants/slaves that displace the citizens.

10.) They always implode into Bankruptcy – and then the oligarchs head for new plantations and begin a new leaving the wreckage as the responsibility of the nation they just milked dry!

The diagram to the above right, shows this pretty well. You have the oligarchy. They dominate all that really matters, using the government to act upon the common little people, who are left without recourse to justice from the rapacious appetites of said oligarchy for profits based on usury and chaos.

The one to the left the effects of Usury upon nations: Bankruptcy, subjugation and servitude for the nation, wealth, power and domination for the oligarchy. Free your currency and prosperity will follow!

And with that we shall talk a bit about the power of currency and resource control.

Internationally the empire main base of support is the simple and yet complex fact that Dollars are needed to buy Oil and that oil is needed to have a modern economy. This is the petro-dollar and it is the foundation upon which the Imperial Power rests.

The reason the 'world' cares one wit what the 'leaders of the free world' think is because they need their banknotes to buy the petroleum needed to remain in the 21st century.

If you think of the world community as a fixed point and the Petro-Dollar as a collar that can be used to leverage the imperial domains about economically, politically and if that fails to bring them sufficiently into line to weaken them for the military blow, then you are not far from the mark. It is this power and control over the volume and worth of the currency in relation to labor and goods, that ensures their domination of the Nations, from this flows the power to corrupt and buy elections so as to 'legally' sell us into bondage to the Money Masters. This is so because their credit power gives them ALL the other power and authority which they posses!

To repeat and reiterate:

The Elite Rest Upon Their Credit Power! Thus if this power is knocked out from under them, they rest upon NOTHING! Remember when going after a world wide Imperium go for the softs. And the 'softs' of the world system are paradoxically the very credit and resource monopoly that gives them their ability to project power. Rather it is the false belief in its power and a false understanding of money and wealth. * See appendix for related discussion. *

Hence smash the credit monopoly and you smash the oligarchies 'grand alliance'.

* Appendix:

Money and Wealth – their relationship to power and freedom.

In the end the end 'money' and 'credit' are merely counters for Human Labor. Once Any One of the Nations laboring under the Oligarchies whip realize and apply this great truth the time of the Usurer of over and never again will anyone consent to allow others to charge them interest (extra time and labor really) for their own work. Since if money is a counter for labor, then Labor is in fact the real 'money' and the actual wealth of a nation is measured not based upon usurer credit and debts but upon its ability to labor and create first its own needs and then secondarily to provide the needs of others in exchange for the goods of those others. Thus the ends comes when the greater mass is educated about the fact that THEY and not some nebulous cabal create all the wealth of the nation.

America is the heart of the empire, it is also the ONLY land mass large enough to survive a world wide embargo and successfully jettison the economics of the Oligarchy and replace that with the assertion of National Autarchy. Autarchy is very simply the status of being able to provide for yourself. Such a nation would have NO use or need for credit, free trade, or any of the other treacheries of the Oligarchy. Such a nation that was large and had a nuclear deterrent could in fact be the basis for a world wide reconquest from these usurious trash. *

The Country of Coconut Island.

Once there was an island nation. Coconut island. On Coconut Island there were 100 citizens, 100 acres of land, 100 coconut trees, and 100 wells worth of housing, clothing food and water. (1 citizen requires about $\frac{1}{2}$ a share of each to live at all.) It was a virgin and empty land. But then the 1st citizen sprang from the very earth, and claimed 32 of all the acres, coconuts and wells. The next few arrived and claimed some more, until the 10th when 80 of all the acres, trees and wells were claimed. Them came the next 70 citizens who shared 20 acres, trees and wells between them. These last few found that they lacked the water and coconuts needed to eat and be hydrated so they were pressed into service by the 10 at the top, who paid them about 15 coconut trees worth of food and about the same of water, so that they had just enough to keep on working the land of the 10, and particularly the 1st who again had about a third of the acres, trees and water to himself. Now to compound all this 20 more citizens arrived and having NO share of the land, trees, or water, sold themselves for 10 coconut trees and wells worth of resources, which only ensured that the 70 above them had even less coconuts, water and resources (say their 20 in wealth and now 15 in 'wages); while those 10 at the top could skim a bit more since the bottom 20 had no leverage upon which to bargain, lacking ANY land that was their own and needing to beg even this from some portion of the 80% of citizens above them, such that if they do not work on the terms presented they do not eat, are not housed, and don't even have access to water.

So to recap we have 100 acres of land; 100 coconut trees ; 100 wells; and 100 citizens total that are distributed such that:

1 citizen has 32 acres, trees and wells
the next 9 have 48 acres, trees and wells between them
Then there are a further 70 that have about 20 to share, and who must therefore labor for the other 15 to just survive and finally, the last 20 citizens that have NO 'rightful' shares in any trees, water or resources at all, and who must labor for the entire 10 required for bare subsistence. And who therefore put downward, pressure on the wages of of the next 70 and their own ranks.

Therefore the top 10% have about 80 minus 25 equals 55 or about 5.5 a piece while the bottom 90% have 45 divided by 90 or on average about .5 of a share (with the poorest 20% or so being at minimum intake levels and living exposed to the elements more often than not.)

Thus the poorest have about 11 times less what the richest have even though they are 9 times their number. And this is said by ALL, the top 10, to be the way Heaven itself favors things, and at any rate it is only the result of inevitable natural forces, so all is well – for them.

That is the material.

The mentality is that if the top 10 need or want a thing, that is good, just, right and should be made to come about, but if the bottom 90, and particularly the lowest bottom 20 want a single thing that is 'entitlement' and in fact a sign of them having life entirely too easy or that they have the wrong ideas! Those lazy people that live outdoors, they get their .5 share needed to live, thinking is not their lot! What else could they ever hope to have? The nerve to ask for More!

Why it defies My Best Interests! Dirty bottom 90% of parasites! How do we bring more to drive their wages down even more and to dilute their unity? Don't they know what they owe us upper 10? Don't they know that we create wealth by hording it among ourselves and paying them sustenance level wages?

To which assertions of monetary sway the cowed and ignorant bottom 90 just sort of bleat: As you wish, and try even harder to live on less and die off to make room for the greater greed ... as they have been told since birth that when they make less everybody has more! And this is considered normal and good.

There are those that will say such a place cannot exist and surely does not exist; however, This Island exists. Oh but it does. It is called America. The Good Ole USA.

We have basically the same wealth and income distribution in the imperial homeland as described above and the media and elite have the same attitude toward the 'lower classes'.

If the numbers were put on Coconut Island:
1 citizen would have ~35% of everything.
The Next 9 would have ~38.5%
(Top Ten = 73.5% of total wealth.)

Then the next 50 have 26.5%
And finally we have the NOW bottom 40 rather than 20 who have nothing at all. So the top have gained, the next nine lost a bit, and we have 50 rather than 70 for the next class who gained a bit (but still just above the .5 necessity level you will notice!) and then a doubly large under class of 40 citizens.

So America is actually worse off than the Plutocratic Coconut Island I sought to make, when the numbers are lined up side by side. Verily I actually tried to make Coconut Island as 'not first world like' as possible but America still had DOUBLE the poor and not very many less 'just making it' citizens. And if that is Okay to you, then you are coconuts.

The Greatest Dangers to American Freedom
The Greatest Dangers to American Freedom are A Government that ignores the Constitution ...

Thomas Jefferson

I have to differ and I shall use Thomas Jefferson's own words to justify my difference from this opinion of his. ... it is for the peace and good of mankind that a solemn opportunity of doing this every nineteen or twenty years should be provided by the constitution, so that it may be handed on with periodical repairs from generation to generation to the end of time ... We should be not worried about government and those that use it to their advantage 'ignoring' a piece of paper but must work as a Nation to ensure that WE John Q Non-hyphenated American as political beings can influence the Government more than the Money Changers that have bought our Nation's heart and soul! To the end of tossing said money parasites out into the Sea. So that we can have control over our lives again!

Now to the Greatest Dangers.

The greatest dangers have always been:

- 1.) That the Constitution allows for no means to go directly to John Q Public with the issues -- it would have never passed into law if it did! (Plebiscites work: Switzerland is hardly an Anarchy now is it?)
- 2.) That said public has no means of recalling officials, representatives or judicial figures or challenging a laws application, intent or validity. (again constitutional referendums work in most of the Western States, they are rarely used and almost always work out for John Little Dude rather than Wally Big Street.)

3.) It does not lay out what is taxable, what is income, or what for that matter under what terms

'gold and silver' equate to money in commerce -- and this is its fatal flaw allowing the 'nation' to be subject to the Credit Oligarchy. (Basically unless a Nation controls the issuance of its own Credit and the value and volume of the same it cannot be strong. The Nation does somethings better than Wall Street. For more on that:

[http://newswithviewstoo.blogspot.com/2014/07/tosumm arize-](http://newswithviewstoo.blogspot.com/2014/07/tosumm arize-and-attempt-to-systemize.html)

[and-attempt-to-systemize.html](http://newswithviewstoo.blogspot.com/2014/07/tosumm arize-and-attempt-to-systemize.html))

4.) The very notions upon which the Constitution are based lack the concept of "DUTY" being tied to 'RIGHTS' and without that there can be no lasting order. When 'right' becomes a matter of not a performed minimal level of input but rather of just being alive ... you are bound in time to end up at A-Modern-ica and its failed PC status. This again is a fatal flaw. 'Equality' is great and all but when the 60 IQed psychotic pre-primate is 'equal' to the 130 IQ Saintly Sage ... something is very very wrong and logic and ethics are being very sorely abused or forgotten. Those that do are equal to those that merely take, cannot work. All who make a certain level are treated the same -- that can work, under certain rules. But total equality is NOT possible because it is NOT part of natures reality.

5.) There is nothing in the Constitution that stops the government from doing 99% of what it does

... Mass Immigration is Treason from the Right's POV but it is NOT unconstitutional in the least ... Liberalism needs ditched ...

The Document will be set aside at some point: "Let us provide in our constitution for its revision at stated periods. What these periods should be nature herself indicates. By the European tables of mortality, of the adults living at any one moment of time, a majority will be dead in about nineteen years. At the end of that period, then, a new majority is come into place; or, in other words, a new generation. Each generation is as independent as the one preceding, as that was of all which had gone before. It has then, like them, a right to choose for itself the form of government it believes most promotive of its own happiness; consequently, to accommodate to the circumstances in which it finds itself that received from its predecessors; and it is for the peace and good of mankind that a solemn opportunity of doing this every nineteen or twenty years should be provided by the constitution, so that it may be handed on with periodical repairs from generation to generation to the end of time, if anything human can so long endure."

--Thomas Jefferson to Samuel Kercheval, 1816. ME 15:42

And for more:

"Every constitution, then, and every law, naturally expires at the end of nineteen years. If it be enforced longer, it is an act of force, and not of right. It may be said, that the succeeding generation exercising, in fact, the power of repeal, this leaves them as free as if the constitution or law had been expressly limited to nineteen years only. In the first place, this objection admits the right, in proposing an equivalent. But the power of repeal is not an equivalent. It might be, indeed, if every form of government were so perfectly contrived, that the will of the majority could always be obtained, fairly and without impediment. But this is true of no form. The people cannot assemble themselves; their representation is unequal and vicious. Various checks are opposed to every legislative proposition. Factions get possession of the public councils, bribery corrupts them, personal interests lead them astray from the general interests of their constituents; and other impediments arise, so as to prove to every practical man, that a law of limited duration is much more manageable than one which needs a repeal." --Thomas Jefferson to James

Madison, 1789. ME 7:459, Papers 15:396

So simply meet under Color of Article V and have a Convention of Right/Center Loyal Americans from rural counties of a majority of states.

(have state delegations that vote as blocks for final vote as a de facto People's 'Congress' and there you go ... letter of law means NOTHING if the WILL to be a LAW is present!) It seems the 'lawful' way forward from this impasse and a way that most of Majority America could accept. The internationalists, money bags and let us be frank minorities/special-victims-under-PC that would reject it: They shall not be consulted.

I suspect at some point Patriots will do just this to save what is left of the Nation IE their people.

Under that Article Lays the power to write an entirely new organic document of any type desired.

Dependence -- its not just bad when its dope.

What you depend upon; you cannot be free from; thus it holds your independence of action, thought and ultimately controls your reality. From dope to oil:

If you allow yourself to be dependent (particularly upon anything with NO care for your wellbeing or concern for your person) you give up your Independence

(and you risk your life as well) -- Simple as that.

Since what is dependent is inferior to what holds them in dependence. Dependence negates Independence! One cannot exist if the other is allowed sway.

Dependence is a leash that attaches you to the post of those that control the flow of the things you come to depended upon in the natural order of things -- particularly when those you depend upon are NOT loyal to you and yours in the least and learn to use this dependency to their advantage.

Thus depending upon your kin and friends not so bad of an idea; depending upon 'the world' equals Mother of Fubar ideas. See: American Middle Eastern Policy.

Now ask and answer these questions if you will to yourself:

If we are depending upon others in China(manufactured goods), in what way are we free of those people in China?

If we are depending upon Vietnamese Communist(shoes, clothes other sweatshop products) in what way are we free of them?

If we are wrapped up in the usurers web of debts and credits(do I even have to start beating that drum? Really?), in what exact way are we free of their debt based games?

If we are dependent upon Import-Mart and Copra-Mart for food, and Cosmo-Mart for junk and all these are owned by a small click of people, in what way are we free of those people?

Now to ask the final question: In what real way are we free at all if we are dependent upon all these communists, Asiatics, money grubbers and low wage emporiums?

The answer is that you are not independent and that YOU, are like 99% of the rest of us and bottom up in the water. Bobbing like a cork in denial that all has went wrong. Yup. I am on this deck with the rest of you.

The reality is that WE, as a whole nation are rapidly going down into servitude. Does anyone but the pie in the sky club deny this? 'Our' power is largely an illusion and one that is highly misused and over costly.

And the most painful and yet totally factual reality is that the US has been sold out to internationalist interests, by fifth columnists, among our elite, media and academia, that care more about Money and ROI, as well as their own temporary power over others, than Nation and Home or long lasting stable existence of our kind. (We will be like the UK before us, bleed dry and then tossed while the usurers, rentiers, and corporations just relocate and set up a new and fresh doing business under new names.)

The answer to the million dollar, 'what is to be done riddle' is to depend only upon those that are LOYAL to the interests that you are loyal too, starting with yourself; branch out into your family; then the neighbors; and you get the idea. Work on making yourself a stable pillar that can hold up the duties you will need to shoulder if you are to be truly free, you must carry your weight. There is no other truth.

Therefore it seems wise to help yourself become more able to help those like yourself; so that they can become more able, and keep the outward cycle rolling.

Find something useful to securing food, clothing or land(every other natural resource including 'acreage' that is not food or clothing, really) and stick with it until it pans out or leads to greater more useful things. Find many things. Stick with it until you make it work. Unify and rally around your commonality. Work from the center out beginning with you. Grow in silence and simply try to first find way to need less. Buy simple; make from scratch; buy as little as needed.

Try to use some of those purchases towards hobbies, or even part time work that teaches you independence in at least some small way -- being able to sew means being able to make your own clothes if you can get cloth; being able to spin cloth means having cloth if you can grow { cotton, flax, hemp, new Zealand hemp, manila hemp, etc }; therefore if you can grow flax you can ultimately make your own clothes independent of all others ... ideally. Simple stuff really.

Now for the nay saying nannies. You learned to walk and ride a bike by ... falling a bunch of times until you got it correct. What is the difference between those learned actions and these learned actions? None. That is correct. My reckoning is that most of us will learn these things by trial and error because ... that is the tired and true method and since your ancestors did all the above and more in much worse conditions with a lot less potential mechanical help, so can you, of that fact I am certain. I would advise using this time remaining before the ship lists, to learn about manning the life boat with skill. Just saying.

Rule of Law or Man of Straw? The Lawyers would steal it ALL!

I am always awed by the reverence people have for the Lawyer Gibberish called Law in the English Speaking World. It is odd that they should think that these oddly phrased words and not those that wrote and enforce them rule over the Affairs of State -- it is second only to the odd liberal belief that the Congo is equal to Connecticut. Especially when the Courts over turn the people's will at whim and Lawyers fill our Legislatures, and do anything but rule according to the 'law' merely ignoring it OR rewriting it at whim! I seems to me that WHO rules upon WHAT principles is just as important as HOW they rule. Just pointing that out, I am not the first person to be so awed;nor to comment upon the oddity of this condition.

I present excerpts from Jonathan Swift ...

I said there was a society of men among us, bred up from their youth in the art of proving by words multiplied for the purpose, that white is black, and black is white, according as they are paid. To this society all the rest of the people are as slaves.

Jonathan Swift - [Law and Lawyers]

Yes yes indeed there is, is there not? .

It is a maxim among these lawyers, that whatever hath been done before, may legally be done again: and therefore they take special care to record all the decisions formerly made against common justice and the general reason of mankind.

Jonathan Swift - [Precedents]

I too have seen this happen, have not you?

Now for the Longer Passagem for those that want context:

A Lawyer is a Cow Theif with Legal Sanction!

I said, "there was a society of men among us, bred up from their youth in the art of proving, by words multiplied for the purpose, that white is black, and black is white, according as they are paid. To this society all the rest of the people are slaves. For example, if my neighbour has a mind to my cow, he has a lawyer to prove that he ought to have my cow from me. I must then hire another to defend my right, it being against all rules of law that any man should be allowed to speak for himself. Now, in this case, I, who am the right owner, lie under two great disadvantages: first, my lawyer, being practised almost from his cradle in defending falsehood, is quite out of his element when he would be an advocate for justice, which is an unnatural office he always attempts with great awkwardness, if not with ill-will. The second disadvantage is, that my lawyer must proceed with great caution, or else he will be reprimanded by the judges, and abhorred by his brethren, as one that would lessen the practice of the law. And therefore I have but two methods to preserve my cow. The first is, to gain over my adversary's lawyer with a double fee, who will then betray his client by insinuating that he hath justice on his side. The second way is for my lawyer to make my cause appear as unjust as he can, by allowing the cow to belong to my adversary: and this, if it be skilfully done, will certainly bespeak the favour of the bench. Now your honour is to know, that these judges are persons appointed to decide all controversies of property, as well as for the trial of criminals, and picked out from the most dexterous lawyers, who are grown old or lazy; and having been biassed all their lives against truth and equity, lie under such a fatal necessity of favouring fraud, perjury, and oppression, that I have known some of them refuse a large bribe from the side where justice lay, rather than injure the faculty, by doing any thing unbecoming their nature or their office.

"It is a maxim among these lawyers that whatever has been done before, may legally be done again: and therefore they take special care to record all the decisions formerly made against common justice, and the general reason of mankind. These, under the name of precedents, they produce as authorities to justify the most iniquitous opinions; and the judges never fail of directing accordingly.

"In pleading, they studiously avoid entering into the merits of the cause; but are loud, violent, and tedious, in dwelling upon all circumstances which are not to the purpose. For instance, in the case already mentioned; they never desire to know what claim or title my adversary has to my cow; but whether the said cow were red or black; her horns long or short; whether the field I graze her in be round or square; whether she was milked at home or abroad; what diseases she is subject to,

and the like; after which they consult precedents, adjourn the cause from time to time, and in ten,
twenty, or thirty years, come to an issue.

Nothing is New Under the Sun ... It is because you believe their lies that you are their slaves. It is because you accept your status that it remains as it is!
And for no other reason. Justice Not Legalism, is the end of the art of Law. Law is the Giving to each Man his right and proper due ...
Nothing Else.

Manly Virtue or the Golden Calf...

.. the leaven raises the whole loaf.

There was once a land of Manly Virtues. It was populated by Free Men, who worked their free holdings with good cheer. They were a proud, and noble people, each keenly aware of his place in the community of the whole, and each respected in proportion to his fulfillment of those duties he found himself owing to the whole.

They were on the average not rich, even their 'upper class' (to use our 'barbarous terms') were not opulent but lived a life tempered by frugality. A life honestly toiling at their labors. A life differing in status but not kind from the rest. They were in effect an example to their kind. An aristocracy of Merit; chosen to lead at those things they both are inclined to do and do better than others, not merely taken at random from among any living bodies that pay for power!

Display and pomp was alien to their way and mores. It caused them to feel disgust rather than awe for those that engaged in such empty mockery of authority and power – both being based upon respect for duty well done, in these peoples' estimation.

Dignity and honor were earned by good work in the common cause. Their leaders were promoted based upon their potential merit to bring about good results for the Folk and demoted for failure or malfeasance of duty to do the same. Their State operated upon two principles: The Will of the People Shall Be Done; and, The Highest Law is the Well Being of the People.

The minimum duties for all Male heads of Households were: paying a tax; serving as part of the call up force; and to point a fine point on it producing more citizens to carry on the kind. These duties increased as one's social status, power and wealth increased. They were not free choices – More wealth and more power meant more obligation as well as more social status for service well done.

The only 'ambition' seemingly at play among them was to be thought of the as the best use to their family, their kin and the rest of their kind in that order. This animated them with a high regard for duty done well. They struggled mightily for high regard from their kin and kind, attempting to outdo each other in deeds of all sorts that were of use to their families, clans, and eventually to the nation as a whole. In this struggle though they were wise enough to keep sight of the fact that many men together can do what no one man alone can.

This was a just, chaste and honest people. Justice and not legality was the letter put upon their hearts and actions. Lawyers and their way of lying at the bar was utterly unknown among them and would not have been allowed. First lying for a living to protect the guilty from their punishment would not be acceptable and second no person was allowed to take payment to help another plead at law.

Thus they keep dishonesty and the corruptible power of money out of their legal system. And they saved themselves the expense of a kvetching class of malcontents constantly plotting to use the law against them as a weapon. As well as having NO professional 'judges' to maintain at public expense or public prosecutors.

Their 'courts' were simple and resembled our 'manorial courts' of old. The older men of station acted as judges, the other adult male citizens the jury and each man presented his case. A law was either broken or not, and if so then the penalty was paid in either kind or labor. If it was a capital offense either a hanging or a burning commenced depending upon the crime – against persons and property it was hanging, against the state and common good burning was used. No appeals.

No nonsense. Very simple and direct system. Few Laws made for the easy application of Justice.

Again very direct, very conducive to honest justice sans legalism, and was very hard to abuse by the deceptive, as the matters at hand were generally known to all involved. That is unlike our 'progressive' system theirs was almost impossible to use to foul means.

This system worked as much of their society functioned because the Manly People held their word to be a bond and held their head upright saying what was true with their mouths. This people held rightly and wisely, that keeping to your Father's Father's Fathers way was the tried and true way to ensure order, stability and justice to the whole of the Land.

And the way of these people was to organize around Patriarchal families, as the basis for the nation. The Father was the head of household, provider, and in effect was a mini-monarch in his own personal realm. The mother, the keeper of the hearth, and therefore of the folk's greater tomorrow. The children brought up as the growing potential of that tomorrow, a future which all worked to see come to fruition.

These freeholder households were more or less generally held by all adult male citizens, who were more or less universally married and had several children to carry on their patrimony. They varied in size from here to there by where generally large enough that a family of 5-10 and sometimes more lived off the products of the homestead.

The fact was that, on these homesteads, those veritable mini-monarchies, most everything needed for life was made by the freeholders and their families – though there was a limited but necessary amount of factories and other cooperative enterprises for building, supplying and otherwise manufacturing those things more economically built on scale for domestic sale.

Generally, though, what could not be made was traded for at local and regional Fairs which were strikingly similar to our "farmer's markets". It should be pointed out that since they made their own food, clothes and had an unabridged right to housing they were in even in monetary poverty quite rich in all the things needed to live and produce more of themselves. This is no small feat, my dear readers.

The children numerous and disciplined by labor and taught young the rudiments of the fighting arts, as well as the basics of letters, reading and numbers, by their father and mother, where strong and virile. Raised to be part of community as good well rounded citizens with the father bearing social responsibility for them being reared properly, while the mother took day to day charge of that grave responsibility.

It seems that the Manly People were accustomed to send their children to what are almost equal to our old 'Dame Schools' were the few older 'spinsters' and widows taught the children more advanced subjects and the other mothers and older children who were more 'bright' acted as teacher aids. So that rather than divided age groups the children were more placed by ability.

They seem to have had a more or less universal curriculum and since there was almost no bureaucracy or administrative costs, it can be said that they were rather well educated at very little public expense for this almost universal basic education.

Also it should be noted that rather than break up the family and community as regimented systems do, theirs tended to reinforce said bonds of affection among the community members.

They found their joy in music, literature, poetry and other simple beauties of life. They sought to outdo each the other in these life affirming arts, and found greater joy in a lovely song than most merchants of our land do in their golden trinkets – shiny and dead.

They differed from ours and most other societies in that they strove to ensure that ALL that put in an honest day's labor were compensated with an honest living beholden to only their duty and the law.

Early they learned to make money and exchanges done between them, as well as technological advances made by them the servant of the Folk rather than let it master them as others have to their doom. 'Trade' was not allowed by them to change their ways but only allowed in so much as it helped strengthen their ways and mores.

The 'Market' they made secondary to the men that give that market substance following something very similar to our ancient and nearly forgotten 'Just Price' theory IE that there is a just price for all goods and services such that both parties live a decent life and both are fairly remunerated in the exchange.

Among them nothing like speculation was known. Items are bought for use or stored until needed, or even perhaps traded for other goods or services. They are not bought with the idea of hording them until they are 'worth more later' as they were to these people worth the same eternally. Any attempts to change the customary prices resulted at best prosecutions, and at worst in riots and the death of the 'thief' and 'jabber'. All of this was very similar to the now almost forgotten 'Just Price' of the ancient trade and craft

'Guilds'.

These wise people mastered money by outlawing private lending, all usury, and by insisting upon public control of both the volume and worth of the money supply in a scheme rather similar to the idea called 'social credit'. The central idea being to line up the purchasing power of the citizens with the value of the goods they have to offer. 'Division of labor' seems to have been minimal among them, being limited to the very least amount needed to keep them apace of new technology such that it could ensure they were able to feed, clothe, house and defend themselves well enough such that they could be strong and well found.

This was so that any invasion of their lands would simply not be worth fighting the entire male population house to house to house, street to street, village to village.

These people had the inner strength, as well as the technological ability to destroy their own goods rather than see them stolen, and their motto once fighting started was 'no treaty or truce with any occupier of our lands; nothing for the invader.' Consequently they almost never suffered invasion.

And when they did the invaders paid dear and the People though they suffered material privation survived as a free Sovereign Folk.

Thus we have Manly Virtue.

At the top a Golden Calf was indicated, and now we shall turn our mind's eye upon this lot.

The Land of the Golden Calf was separate by a sea from the Land of Golden Virtue. It was an almost opposite land. In the this land, Gold, and not the Folk was paramount. There was a trio of 'gods' among them: The Calf or as it was known among the vulgar 'The Market'; Mammon who is also known as greed; and Moloch, who personifies is selfishness to the point of being willing to sacrifice the youth to the wants and comforts of the old.

These resided in the sacred precinct of the gods known as the Avenue. The Market controlled all prices, production, commercial transactions and had a monopoly upon the issuance of credit.

If any in the land would buy or sell, or live they had to come and pay tribute IE tax to the great Trio of Calf, Greed and Selfishness, and to truly proper in this land they had to live and exemplify the 'morals' of their idols.

There are really 'two' peoples in this land. One, who are numerically very insignificant but who are favored by the Calf . These have all the money, wealth, control the political offices, courts, police and prisons. And the other that works to pay the tribute to the Calf, laboring away, to be given the crumbs of the system.

The One use the Calf the power it gives them to ensure the Other is keep low and servile. The One is not the Other and the Other is excluded from the One, the Poor is Equal but the Rich is Double Plus More Equal. Poverty Bad, Affluence Good! Wealth however gotten will gain you the favor the Calf and gain an Other entry into the One, wealth lost equates a One to the Other.

However the One is always trying to ensure that NONE of the Other join the One by taxing them and putting them to fighting each other for crumbs like dogs, as they pick their pockets for the pennies yet remaining to the Others.

Thus in this land we find slavery, debt-bondage, nepotism, favoritism and all the selfish underhanded vile behavior that would be expected of a social order that encouraged men to act like robbers, bandits and thieves in all but name under the guise of Freedom, Liberty, and Happiness.

The myth was that all are equal before the Golden Calf. The Reality was that the select few have all the freedom, liberty and happiness they could seek, they use it in to bask in the light of the Golden Calf with Moloch and Mammon as their comforters. This trio then orders the Laws such that the Few have legal power with which to force the others to work under threat of police, poverty and prisons to pay the price tag for the Few's lavish lifestyles.

The Myth was that all are Equal; but in reality to not have wealth was to not matter by Holy Edict of the Market.

Those that cannot pay were put into slavery until they were of NO use and then they were exiled to parts unknown or just cast into the sea as the Market dictated. Men were reduced to material goods.

There were debt-bondage emporium in each town where such wretches were sold like so much cattle and with just as much fuss. Men were merely commodities to be sold before the Calf like any other at Profit. To the Calfers 'society' is but a short hand for 'human resource pool', thus they do not find it odd, nor immoral that people should be used, tossed out and then disposed off, just as the Calf, Mammon and Moloch demand of them. These people were always unhappy with what they had and 'needed' more, more and more infinitely. Their entire economy and way of life depended upon always having more – for some, for a lot of others it meant always having either the same or less.

These people in their restless greed found the land of Manly Virtue and proceeded to attempt an invasion. As their army was made of servile and weak manlings, whose only motivation was greed they made little headway. They faced the Manly people who loved both their land and themselves more than any amount of money. The Calfer Forces were crushed at each attempt, and though they breed like rats in their slave pens, they were put to great task, by this set back in the growth of their domain – as the Calf had determined that its lands were empty and that growth would stop if the Manly lands were not had. They came almost to a panic; to a fever pitch! And then, they set upon a design. A nefarious plot. An inversion of common sense so bold it might just succeed where force had failed. They saw that the Manly people must see them as foul and ugly, and inverted that to their advantage.

They called together all the youth of their nation that could pass for fair, and that could lie best and with most convincing demeanor. These they sent as 'refugees' from the Market and they were to say that they came in peace and only desired to live freely in a small parcel of land. It was believed that the Manly people would believe this as who among them would not try to escape such a land as ours? And this lie was believed, and the fifth column taken in and allowed to slowly do its work.

First the natural attractions between sexes wrought unions among them of man and wife, and this allowed for some of the Citizens of Manly virtue to be raised by Golden Calfers and thus to slowly over time morph the one society into the other like a pathogen replicating itself by mutating its host, until out of what was once fair there was came forth only foul – for any good that occurred among any in the Land of the Golden Calf was more than offset by a degradation and marginalization of manners among the formerly Virtuous People. This continued until one was the other and the other was the one. And there was only the Market left feasting freely upon the ruins of this once great folk, and people!

And thus the Leaven: by this means the Manly Folk were subjected to those that never in a million eons would have been able to subdue them by force. Thus was destroyed their way of life. And thus was an end put to their being as they were mixed away before the Golden Calf's market as Mammon and Moloch cackled in delight.
